President Cosgrave Wins in Cork; Waterford Elects Captain Redmond

DUBLIN, Sept. 16.—President Cosgrave headed the poll in Cork City in yesterday's parliamentary election, receiving 17,395 votes against the 11,608 of former Lord Mayor French, who stood second.

The first man elected to the new Dail, apart from the unopposed Trinity College members, was Mr. Frank Aiken, chief of staff of the "Republican Army," who topped the poll in Louth.

The following three candidates were declared elected on the first count in Dublin North: General Mulcahy, Government, 14,597; Alfred Byrne, Independent, 11,874; James Larkin, Independent-Labor, 7,490. The necessary quota was declared to be 7,245. S. T. Kelly, Republican, received only 6,958 first votes, but probably will be elected on the further distribution of preferences.

In Dublin South, three candidates were declared elected: S. Leamas, Republican, chief party agent for the de Valera party, who polled 11,340 votes; Dr. Hennessy, Government, who polled 9,400; and J. W. Beckett, Government, 7,362. Robert Briscoe, Republican, failed of election on the first preferences, but probably will be elected on the distribution of votes.

Mr. Ernest Blythe, Free State vice-president, headed the poll in Monaghan, but was 142 short of the quota. He will be elected by the distribution of votes, and others likely to be elected similarly for the same constituency are Richard Haslett, Independent, and Dr. F. C. Ward, Fianna Fail.

Captain Redmond, the National League leader, was elected in Waterford, where he polled 11,340 votes, and was also returned.

ELECTION CLASHES
The election is carried on by the preferential system and it probably will be next week before the full results can be tabulated, although reports received in Dublin were that the balloting, which was unusually heavy, was carried out without disturbances for the most part, two deaths have been reported in election clashes. Advice from Kilkenny, County Kildare, said that William Grogan was killed in a scuffle between rival parties at the close of the polls, while messages from Strabane said that John Curran had died as the result of an injury suffered in a fight between Fianna Fail and Government supporters at K. J. O'Donnell. Two other men were wounded in the fray.

Minister Takes Steps to Collect Distillery Taxes

OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—The first steps to collect arrears in sales tax from the large number of the Canadian distilleries, investigated already, have been taken by the Minister of National Revenue. Writs against these distilleries are now in the hands of the Justice Department and it is expected little time will be lost in serving them. In a number of cases, the arrears already have been collected. It is understood, but there are others in which court proceedings may be necessary. It has been a matter of contention whether sales tax was properly collectable on sales of liquor which eventually found a market in the United States. The distilleries maintain that the sales were made outside of Canada and were not subject to Dominion sales tax.

OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—"Some timorous Canadians seem to be afraid of the influence which Canada wields in the League of Nations," declared Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, at the annual banquet of the Association of Canadian Clubs this evening. "They do not realize the position that their country occupies among the nations of the world; they do not understand that the contribution of Canada in the work of the League is a contribution to peace and nothing else."

CHIEF JUSTICE ANGLIN
OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—"If Canada stands well before the world today, it is because of her devotion to high ideals and self-sacrifice during the Titanic struggle of the past decade, and because of the recognized fact that among the civilized nations she takes foremost place in progressive legislation and adequate provision for administration of the law," Hon. RIVALRIES DO NOT CREATE ILL-FEELING

United States Consuls and Attaches Tell Foreign Trade Council of Opportunities for Overseas Trade

"I WANT to take back to my countrymen in the Old Land the message that there are two Anglo-Saxon nations living side by side, carrying on in some respects the same trade relations and having therefore rivalries incident thereto at times, but doing so without any trace of ill-feeling," said Mr. F. A. Pauline, Agent-General of the province in London, in speaking before the Pacific Foreign Trade Council last evening at the dinner meeting of that body.

The session was given over to the consideration of trade problems in the Orient and elsewhere, the speakers being trade commissioners and commercial agents acting for their countries. Mr. Pauline declared that there could be no better method of understanding the conditions that existed between the two countries than to attend these conferences, and to hear the discussions along the line of reciprocal advantages to be derived from trade. It was an opportunity to show to the world that Canada and the United States believed in the principle of goodwill among the nations of the world. Mr. Pauline observed that he would return to London after this convention was over, feeling that all was well on the Pacific Coast. "I will be a volunteer messenger to London town, which is the cradle of Anglo-Saxon civilization, that harmony exists between the United States and Canada, as shown in this convention."

THE DIAMOND JUBILEE
Mr. W. Meekins, United States Commercial Attaché at Ottawa, called attention to the fact that Canada had just celebrated its Jubilee, having been formed into a Dominion in 1867, and in 1927 it was the most prosperous country in the world. "The outstanding problem of Canada as a Pacific State is the formation of a sales policy," he argued.

OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—Election of officers, adoption of a programme of expansion, revision of the constitution amplifying its aims and acceptance of a considerably increased annual budget, were the main features of the morning session which practically concluded the business here of the fifteenth annual conference of the Association of Canadian Clubs. The Association adopted after lengthy consideration a budget of $15,000, which is an increase of three thousand over last year.

IRISH PLANE FORCED BACK BY WEATHER

North Atlantic Westward Flight Yet Remains to Be Achieved—Hope of Success Once More Dashed

ADVERSE WIND AND FOG ENCOUNTERED

Unfavorable Weather Conditions Encountered Some Distance Out Over Atlantic—Landed Safely

DUBLIN, Sept. 16.—The monoplane Princess Xenia, which left the airport at 1:36 o'clock this afternoon on a nonstop flight across the Atlantic, was forced down at Beale Strand, County Kerry, at 6 o'clock. Neither Capt. Robert H. McIntosh nor his companion, Commandant James C. Fitzmaurice, was injured.

The landing of the aviators at the little seaside resort four and a half hours after they had hopped off with high hopes and cheery farewells, meant failure for another east-west transatlantic flight, but it was failure without loss of life. The reluctant decision of the airmen to turn back to land and safety came after they had encountered over the sea adverse winds and a blinding fog which obscured their course and made impossible their plan to span the ocean to New York by way of Newfoundland in about twenty-six hours without stopping. "We and the machine are O.K.," Commandant Fitzmaurice said in an interview after making the landing at Beale Strand, near Ballybunion. "The engine ran perfectly and we returned only because the circumstances it was impossible to steer a true compass course."

The airman emptied one gasoline tank in order to lighten their machine and reached County Clare about 6 o'clock. For more than half an hour they flew about thirty feet above the sea, skirting the coast in search of a suitable place to land, and finally came to the Beale Strand, where they landed safely.

Press of Europe Views With Favor Election of Canada to Council Seat

London Newspapers Pleased—News Well Received in Germany—Le Temps of Paris Thinks British Influence Will Be Reinforced at Geneva in General Way Only

Importance Attached to the Seat as First Held by North American Land

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Belgium's defeat in her candidature for re-election as a non-permanent member of the Council of the League of Nations which confounded the prophets here and was probably responsible for Canada's election to the Council, is a leading topic in the London newspapers which are pleased at the outcome of the contest at Geneva.

There is no mistaking the fact that Canada's election has been favorably received in Great Britain. The Daily Chronicle's correspondent says "We heartily congratulate Canada on her election. She fully deserves the position on her merits for her population is larger than that of any of the rival British candidates. There are only five nations in the whole world that can show higher foreign trade figures."

The Daily News says: "Canada's election may prove extremely important and it is most interesting to observe the reaction in the United States."

The Times says: "From the British point of view the most satisfactory feature of this election is that Canada is one of the chosen three. There could have been no more enthusiastic international affirmation of that historical relationship given at the last Imperial Conference."

Senator Dandurand won distinction as President of the Assembly of the League of Nations in 1925, and it is very clear that the position of Canada is far stronger in the Western hemisphere than that of one or two other American states named as members of the Council. It is a fact of great significance to the British people the world over that a nation which is a member of the British Empire has been chosen as a member of the Council of the League of Nations.

OTHER PAPERS

The Evening Standard today declares that as a result of Canada's election to a seat on the Council of the League of Nations, a feeling may be created against third terms in no sense deemed a substitute for the United States, but she obviously is better fitted to express the North American viewpoint in any other country. It will also be interesting to watch the reactions of the Dominions themselves.

HALF-BAKED LEGISLATION

The Old Age Pension Act of the Dominion Government is full of inequities, and it may be safely prophesied if it is made operative in any Province, as it stands, that it is only a question of time before there are loud demands for its amendment. We have alluded already to the clause which reduces the pension that may be paid to an applicant in the event of his having, during the last twenty years of his life, resided a portion of that time in some Province where the pension scheme does not go into effect. Here is an illustration. A person entitled by years and all other conditions to the pension may have resided for fifteen of the past twenty years in Quebec and for the last five years in British Columbia. He will receive just $5 a month or $60 a year. Quebec is not going to be a participant in the pension scheme, so that the most such a pensioner can expect is $5 a month. Suppose the age of the pensioner is just seventy years. He may live to be ninety years old, but, throughout the entire period of his old age, supporting British Columbia retains the pension scheme and Quebec refuses to participate, he will receive just $5 monthly, and no more, although by the time he reaches ninety years of age he will have lived in this Province for twenty-five years.

The Federal Act is specific on the point we have noted. After dealing with the reduction of pensions, on the basis of the proportion of the last twenty years during which a pensioner has lived in the Province where he draws the dole, the Act says: "Where a portion of time shall not affect any such proportionate reimbursement or proportionate reduction." The only hope for such a pensioner getting the full $20 a month is for the Province, or Provinces, in which he or she has spent the balance of the portion of the last twenty years or his or her life at the time the application for a pension is made becoming a participant or participants in the pension scheme.

Is it fair that pensions which are supposed to deal with all in needy circumstances on an equal basis should operate in this way? Wherein lies the "magnanimity" of the Federal Government, or of a participating Provincial Government, when the foregoing restriction is to be perpetuated throughout the life of a pensioner? Doubtless there will be hundreds of pensioners in this Province who will be drawing $5 or $8 or $10 per month under the Pension Act, although they are in absolutely destitute circumstances, and the efflux of time and the growing privations of old age will not increase the dole. This provision, which we have quoted, affords yet another illustration of the half-baked character of the pension legislation. It seems to have been devised by the Liberal Government at Ottawa with the desire that it should be defeated by the Senate. The manner in which it is hedged round with restrictions and discriminations between what may be paid to pensioners makes the Act wholly unjust to a large class of those who will be applicants for its benefits.

It can be assumed in this Province, with its operation under the control of the Workmen's Compensation Board, that pensions will be administered strictly and ruthlessly within the letter of the law and that hardships and jealousies and disgruntlement will continue to multiply. The more the legislation is studied, now that it is on the eve of being instituted in British Columbia, the more it becomes apparent that it is full of disappointments and lacking wholly in vision. It is an uneconomic measure, and, besides, by the character of its provisions, the strongest kind of argument that while, with amendments, it should remain operative over a certain period, now that it has been promised to the people, it should be replaced in the course of years by a pension scheme devised on a contributory basis and one in which all, irrespective of monetary means, can participate.

BRITISH VITAL STATISTICS

The contents of the British Registrar-General's Statistical Review for 1926, which have just been made public, have caused an outburst of headlines in the more excitable portions of the British press. "Britain's Declining Birth-Rate Now Lower Than That of France," "Empty Cradles on the Increase," "Maternity on the Wane," these and kindred exclamations have been scattered across the pages of the newspapers. "Our birth-rate," says The Sunday Express, "is now lower than that of France. With the exception of Sweden, it is the lowest of the European countries. These appalling figures prove that birth control is as deadly as a war. What the war did in 1918 birth control did in 1926. Its ravages are threatening to bring us into the category of the dying nations."

Now the truth is that the French birth-rate is not so amazingly low; Switzerland and Sweden are not so Great Britain have a lower birth-rate than France, and the birth-rates of Belgium, Germany and Norway are not very much above that of France. France is marked out not by her low birth-rate, but by her high death-rate, a death-rate far above that of any other Western European country. Her infantile mortality rate is also high. All the other countries which have a high infantile mortality rate combine it with a high birth-rate, but France combines a low birth-rate with a high infant mortality rate and a very high general death-rate. As a result her rate of natural increase is very low indeed—only 1.3 as against Great Britain's 6.2.

This outburst of excitement at Britain's alleged low birth-rate appears to Time and Tide as rather puzzling and not very intelligent, and it is right where it insists that before any comment is made on vital statistics in the matter of birth-rates due consideration should be given to the question of any country's infant mortality rate. Britain's infant mortality rate is lower than that of any European country save Holland. Holland and Norway are the only countries with lower death-rates than Great Britain, whose rate of natural increase is 6.2 per thousand, and where her people are living in an already badly overcrowded island. The question of whether the people of the "tight little island" do or do not want to increase their population is one of those matters upon which the British public have not yet made up their mind. One factor to be borne in mind is that Britain now has 649 people to the square mile as against Canada's 2.44.

"The time has come," admits The Western Morning News, "when we must make up our minds one way or another on this important matter. We cannot have it both ways. Either it is desirable that we should increase our population or it is not. In any case it is surely desirable that what increase there is should come from a low death-rate and a low infantile mortality rather than from a high birth-rate. Our infant mortality rate is 70 per thousand births. That of France is 98, that of Italy is 119, that of Hungary 168. Italy and Hungary have enormous birth-rates to match their huge infant mortality rates. Are we then to envy them?"

MAN'S ANCESTRY

Dr. G. P. Bidder, the president of the section of Zoology of the British Association goes a good deal farther back than the Darwinian theory to trace the ancestry of man. He says that the sponge was man's ancestor. In building up his thesis, he goes back ten or a hundred thousand millions of generations, at which indefinite time the evolution of the flagellate, or primitive mobile organization, took "the great step" of forming permanent filaments of protoplasm, or which one side was more gelated, more elastic and less easily extensible than the other. "This," he opines, "led to the formation of the flagellum." The flagellates, in the process of evolution, formed hollow or solid aggregates and passed into simple sponge-like forms. From these the grade of animals developed with central digestive cavities from sponge-like forms.

Now those who are in doubt about man's ancestry have yet another theory to juggle with, and the fact that it may carry them back in speculation 100,000,000,000 years or so, more or less, will add spice to their calculations and afford them endless leeway in argument.

The Old Age Pensions Act says in one of its clauses: "When, after the grant of a pension in any Province, the pensioner transfers his permanent residence to another Province with which an agreement under this Act is in force, the pension shall thereafter be paid by the Province to which the pensioner has removed, but such Province shall be entitled to be reimbursed an amount equal to one-half of such pension by the Province in which the pension was originally granted." Since the Dominion pays one-half of the pension and the Province participating the other half, this simply means that a pensioner removing his place of residence to another participating Province shall continue to be paid the Provincial half of his pension by the Province where his application was first made and approved. If he removed to a Province not participating in the scheme, presumably, his pension lapses altogether, so that the Pensions Act, to that extent, decrees where a pensioner may reside.

The birthrate in England and Wales, which is now lower than it is in France and the second lowest in Europe, is explained by The London Daily Chronicle as due partly to the present economic and taxing systems. Both of these favor the unmarried child; the married person and the parent of one child against the parent of many. In any country where there is a difficulty in finding vocations in life for children the birthrate will decline.

HILLTOP SONG

When the lights come out in the cottages
Along the shores at eve,
And across the darkening water
The last pale shadows leave;
And up from the rock-ridged pasture slopes
The sheep-bells tinkling steal,
And the flocks are shut and the shepherds
Turn to their quiet meal;
And even here, on the unfenced height,
No journeying wind goes by,
But the earth-smell and the home-sweet sounds
Mount, like prayer, to the sky.
Then from the door of my opened heart
Old blindness and pride are driven,
Till I know how high the humble,
The earth how close to heaven.

PAID BY ALL THE PEOPLE

Civil servants are paid from the taxes contributed by all the people. They are employees of the Government, but it should not matter to them in the least what party comes to power, for they will be paid by the Government in power.
There was a hope a few years ago that the sickening business of wholesale decapitation of minor Government officials after every minor change of Government had gone, but apparently the rotting thing is still with us to some extent. The contention that Government employees should hold office only so long as they remain politically acceptable to the most prominent supporters of the party in power in the district is too disgusting a creed to be tolerated by the decent people of Canada.—The Western Producer

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

We have been censured for daring to point the finger of scorn at the weather prophets who prophesied that the year 1927 would be a year without a Summer. But we are not singular in our scepticism. The weather itself has been pointing a finger of scorn at the weather prophets, and the sun contempt for the wise men who declared that spots on its countenance were weakening its constitution and affecting adversely its power to distribute heat by waxing blazingly hot in the middle of the month of September and killing a few dozen people in the central States of this America of ours.

The persons who have censured us for pointing the finger of scorn at the weather prophets declare that those wise men are not without honor even in their own country and in this country. They say that those prophets regular weather bulletins, that the bulletins issued are received and read by thousands of people, and that the thousands of people believe implicitly (or simply) in the predictions of the prophets and regulate their business in accordance with them.

That declaration may be quite true. There are, and doubtless always will be, millions of extremely credulous people in the world. Those credulous people remind us of the extremely credulous old lady we have previously referred to who believed the family almanac was infallible in its weather predictions and never went forth to church or market without consulting it. But the weather is like the wind which bloweth where it listeth. We know not whence it cometh nor whither it goeth. Real weather prophets can predict with more or less certainty what the conditions of the weather will be within a certain area for a certain specified period of time because they have instruments to guide them and means of communication to assist them in arriving at their conclusions.

The prophets who prophesied that the year 1927 would be a year without a Summer because three or four years ago there were spots on the sun and that consequently the waters of the oceans had not collected and stored up the usual number of thermal units, to be released and distributed upon the earth during the present Summer season, have been confounded, because while the Summer has been somewhat peculiar and turbulent, while there have been storms and tempests and floods in Europe and America, while the season of seed-time was somewhat late, sufficient heat was distributed to produce an abundant harvest in this part of the world and to gladden the heart of the husbandman. As far as Canada is concerned, the Summer of 1927 has been a very satisfactory Summer indeed, for it has ripened one of the most abundant harvests we ever have had and set our feet in the pleasant path of prosperity.

It is therefore a fortunate thing for the people of Canada and for the people of a hungry world that the weather prophets are without honor save possibly in California. If the millions of people of Canada engaged in agricultural pursuits had been influenced by the predictions of the weather prophets that this year would be a year without a Summer and had decided that it would be futile to sow their seed because the weather would not be hot enough to ripen it, those millions of Canadians would not be harvesting and threshing and marketing a crop of four or five hundred millions of bushels and reaping a profit of a corresponding number of millions of dollars. So we are going to put on the robe of a prophet and predict that the year that was to be without a Summer will be the most prolific and most prosperous year in the history of Canada.

This is an age and a country of stunts, and all stunts are profitable. Lindbergh's flying stunt was extremely profitable. Tunney is going to do a stunt in a day or two that will yield a profit of about a million dollars, and it will be a very short stunt at that. Tunney's stunt will be profitable because thousands of people will pay large sums to see him do it.

Lindbergh's sensational stunt has been commended upon the ground that it demonstrated something of scientific value or importance. Tunney's stunt doubtless will be defended, too, upon the ground that it will establish something that did not need to be established—that one man may be physically stronger and temperamentally more nearly related to the brute than another man. A young lady of Los Angeles is engaged in a stunt that, proved of any kind of a stunt may be turned to more profitable account than the commonplace stunt of "working for a living." The resourceful young lady has been sitting upon the top of a flagpole for twenty days and is not going to come down from her perch until she has shattered all records for squatting upon poles. When she descends there will be a purse of $2,500 and a husband waiting for her. There must, of course, be some scientific value attached to such a seemingly stunt.

ANTI-VIVISECTION HOSPITAL

Sir,—Reading in the English paper, Truth, of June, 1927, a page entitled, "Charles Approved Of," by the editor, I notice that a hospital asking for funds is called the Anti-Vivisection Hospital and the Balmores General Hospital. That there is such an institution may be news to some of your readers.

FIRST AID AT COLWOOD

Sir,—I believe I am expressing the views of the public in protest against the management of the Colwood Racing Association in having absolutely no first aid equipment ready in case of accident during the racing each afternoon. Even after the spill on Monday, when three boys were thrown at the far turn, almost half a mile from the grandstand, it was not thought necessary to have an ambulance in readiness in case of future accidents. In consequence, when Shamrock Plowder, pinning Anderson beneath him, it was three-quarters of an hour before an ambulance could be obtained to carry the injured boy to the hospital. A boy may be thrown and injured at any time, no provision is made for prompt medical attention. In any other field of sport, boxing, football, hockey, etc., first aid equipment is always at hand. Who is responsible for this negligence at Colwood?

A member of the S.P.C.A. is there to see that the poor, dear horses are not mistreated, but what happens if a valuable rider's life is endangered through lack of prompt medical attention?

LAND CLEARING

Sir,—I wish to thank you for inserting in your issue of August 28 the very able article by J. B. Thornhill, on the "Economics of Land Clearing." The suggestions are so important that we would do well to pause in our hitherto so unfruitful efforts after the well-deserved expansion of our district, and review the relative importance to ourselves of improved and efficient methods of destroying the "fir stump," "wood rotting," "in reference to" "wood rotting." Mr. Thornhill says: "I am convinced that an acre of stumps could be rotted out in twenty years at an average outlay of $15, including the cost of labor to inoculate the stumps." If this could be accomplished through the suggested laboratory methods it would at once solve the major problems of the Coast of British Columbia, and of Vancouver Island particularly. The cost of land would be so reduced that we could grow grain in comparison with the world. The effect on our district would be far-reaching.

This subject seems important enough to merit calling a public meeting for the purpose of hearing Mr. Thornhill in more detail. At the same time it might be no less interesting to hear from the Provincial Minister of the department concerned as to what research work the Government is already doing. If the destruction of the fir stump is our most important economic problem it is high time that we commence evening sessions to carry on our studies in a subject so important for our matriculating into the "University of Future Development."

REALTY LEADERS ADDRESS BOARD

President and Secretary of Pacific Northwest Realty Board Are Guests of Local Organization

The value of advertising the Pacific Northwest as a whole was emphasized by Mr. J. W. Wheeler, president of the Pacific Northwest Realty Association, in an address at the luncheon of the Victoria Real Estate Board at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

The cities should cease competitive advertising and promote publicity for the Coast as a whole, Mr. Wheeler said, pointing to the effectiveness of state advertising in California. This had brought a large population to the southern state though the speaker did not think California offered advantages or climate superior to what is found in the Pacific Northwest.

The Pacific Northwest should organize a campaign of education as to the soundness of real estate as an investment, Mr. Wheeler said, urging the necessity of safeguarding property from excessive taxation.

It was the duty of the business man to sell, not only a house and lot, but his whole city. First, the realtor should see that the city was sold to the citizens, and then to the tourist and potential residents. Real estate boards should have representation in local government in such a way that the interests of realty could be protected, he said. Property owners should be represented on real estate boards, Mr. Wheeler declared.

Mr. T. W. Zimmermann, secretary of the Pacific Northwest Realty Association, urged increased community and national advertising. Manufacturers of sauerkraut, for example, had increased their business by twenty per cent as a result of widespread advertising. Last year the per capita consumption of ice cream in the United States was three gallons a person. This increase in business was also brought about by effective advertising.

Mr. Zimmermann declared that the realtor should equip himself with the most complete information possible about his business in order that he might improve the quality of his service to the public. He said that he had lectured to a class in real estate at the Oregon Agricultural College. Of the eighty students only about twenty-five per cent intended to go into the real estate business. The others were studying the subject because, they had explained, they expected to own real estate some day and wanted to learn as much about it as possible. Sixty-two American universities were now giving courses in real estate.

Mr. Zimmermann strongly urged the creation of property owners' divisions of real estate boards.

Mr. A. R. Wolfenden, president of the Victoria Real Estate Board, thanked the speakers on behalf of the local organization.

TARIFF EFFECT ON TRADE STRESSED

Mr. Wayne E. Butterbaugh Speaks on Oriental Situation in Relation to Commercial Interests

The necessity of looking into the effects of the tariff in relation to trade with the Orient was stressed by Mr. Wayne E. Butterbaugh, of Chicago, in his address before the Pacific Foreign Trade Council yesterday afternoon.

The great Middle West, he agreed with Hon. Mr. Gardiner, was favorable to the Coast for shipping that could be utilized to the greatest advantage. Coming from the Middle West he could agree with that view. Since 1920 a considerable amount of the traffic that came from the Orient and that had gone through the Pacific ports came by the Atlantic way.

It was necessary after investigating to have jobs in Oriental products exported to the Pacific Coast. It would be wise to give consideration to the high tariffs of the present and of the effects of preferential tariffs. He advised also the bringing together of the ocean traffic companies and the railways.

TRAFFIC BOTH WAYS
It was necessary to have traffic both ways if profit was to come. Imports had greater attractions to various ports. There were greater returns to the residents of the ports from this department of trade.

He enumerated the imports and exports from the Orient now passing through the Panama Canal and the Suez Canal. Raw and manufactured silk found its way through Pacific ports where speed and service were necessary. Edible nuts for climatic reasons also were peculiar to Pacific ports. Bulky and low valued goods and others found their way by the low cheap methods.

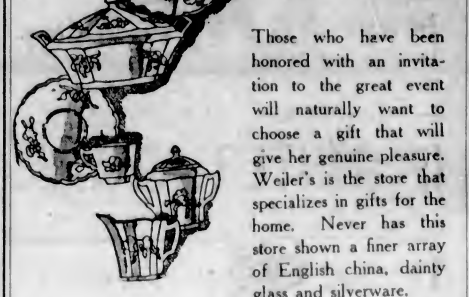

Some other articles could be handled either way, such as tea. These were being lost to the Pacific ports, but could be regained by a little attention.

The speaker referred to a great central area which embraced the territory tributary to Chicago which could be served from the Pacific ports, the Atlantic Coast and the Gulf with perhaps similar advantages.

The general public could do a lot to assist in the diversion of traffic. He instigated the International Harvester Company bringing in its own steamers hemp and oil from the Orient to New Orleans and sending back a return cargo of harvesters, etc.

The advantages of having routing agencies in the Orient was that they could be served from the Pacific facilities played a part also in this matter, and in this instance he cited the presence of mercerizing

SEA WIND
Out of the infinite regions of space, out of the measureless ocean's embrace, over the green, unquiet and wild, now sweet and mild, song of the sea wind, the wind of my choice! Out of the measureless vastness of the sea swift comes the sea wind, untaunted and free, out of the deeps where song never sleeps, voice of the sea wind keeps calling to me.

ISLANDS SHOW IS SUCCESSFUL

"Chehalis Claire" Wins Challenge Cup for Jersey Cow—Pender Island Has Fine Exhibit

FLOWERS SUFFER FROM WEATHER

SALT SPRING ISLAND, Sept. 13.—The Islands Agricultural and Fruit Growers' Association's thirty-first annual exhibition, held on Wednesday, September 14, was officially opened at twelve o'clock by Col. C. Y. Peck, V.C., M.P.P.

The exhibits in the hall were shown up to their former excellent standard, with the exception of the flowers, which, owing to weather conditions, did not attain their usual average. There was, unfortunately, a noticeable falling-off in the number of entries in the various classes. The most outstanding feature in the hall was undoubtedly the beautiful district exhibit from Pender Island, and well worthy of note was also the farmer's display shown by Mr. T. Akerman.

Among the stock, the entry was larger than last year. Some fine specimens of horses were shown in the judges' ring, notably the team of Mr. Watson and Mr. W. I. McAfee. Among the cattle, the pedigree Jerseys of Messrs. King Bros. attracted particular attention. Chehalis Claire winning the silver cup presented by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and also the prize given by the Salt Spring Creamery for the best pedigree cow in show.

POULTRY
The poultry exhibited were of a very high grade. Mr. W. Stewart's White Wyandotte cockerel, winner of the prize for best bird in show; Mr. Lowther's Leghorn cock and hen, and Messrs. King Bros. wald's exhibit of Plymouth Rocks were all worthy of special mention. In the last-mentioned exhibit was the famous hen E 1011, King of Eggs first year, 200 second year, holder of world's two-year official record for Barred Plymouth Rocks exhibited at the World's Poultry Congress at Ottawa, 1927. The Barred Rock cock E 85 (dam C 10402, record 308 eggs first year, 190 second year, Canada's highest of all varieties 1922-23, exhibited in the National Exhibit at the World's Poultry Congress at Ottawa, 1927), sold through the R.O.P. Association for $100. The exhibit also included a pen of registered birds containing three hens which have obtained registration through the Dominion laying contests with the following records: 248, 225 and 216.

Peak Named After Victoria Resident

A remarkable honor has been paid by the Geographical Board of America to a Victoria resident, Col. H. Appleton, after whom a peak has been named at the head of the Sol Duc Hot Springs Park in the Olympic range.

Colonel Appleton, who has lived in Victoria for the past ten or twelve years, has been a frequent visitor to the Sol Duc Hot Springs Park, and there is probably no person who is better acquainted with the district and its flora and fauna as well as topographical features. The United States Geographical Board, which authorizes the names to be given all over the United States and Alaska, is most jealous in making recognition of this kind, and has taken drastic action in a number of cases to remove names which have got on to a map undeservedly or by backdoor influence.

Many Victorians were more familiar with the Sol Duc district in the days of the big Earle Hotel. Since this was destroyed by fire, however, the list of patrons has fallen off notably, and Colonel Appleton is among the few who make an annual visit. Appleton Peak, which is named in his honor, is due south of Mount St. King and about halfway between the Sol Duc Hot Springs and Olympic Hot Springs.

MYSTERY MOUNTAIN DEFEATS CLIMBERS

VANCOUVER, Sept. 16.—Defying the third attempt of Don Munday and Mrs. Munday to scale its summit, Mystery Mountain, at the head of Knight Inlet, claimed, although unmeasured, to be the king of the Canadian Rockies, still holds the secret of its height in its bosom, and retains the wind-blown snow on its crest, unbroken by the foot of man.

Mr. and Mrs. Munday returned from Knight Inlet, 150 miles north of Vancouver, last night, defeated in their daring effort to vanquish Mystery Mountain last week, after two previous failures with the B.C. Mountaineering Club expeditions last August, and in the Summer of 1926.

KING BORIS VISITS ENGLAND INCOGNITO

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Without ceremony of any kind, not even a representative of his embassy being on hand to meet him, King Boris of Bulgaria arrived from Scotland this morning. He was accompanied by two equerries and a valet.

Boris is traveling incognito as Count Rilski. He paid the cabman three shillings and sixpence and gave him a shilling tip.

Balmoral dispatches last night said Boris was expected to resume his incognito as Count Rilski, visitor to London.

The King is thirty-three years of age, a tall, slender, dark complexioned man, who apparently cares more for sport than for society. While the guest of Sir Alexander Muir, at Blair Drummond, Scotland, last week, he devoted most of his time to fishing and hunting.

The result of the recent election in New Westminster had demonstrated the growing strength of the Liberal position in British Columbia. As for Victoria, Premier MacLean maintained that he had always believed the election of 1924 in this city had not been a true demonstration of the political convictions of the citizens here were, he felt, sympathetic to progressive legislation.

Among other representatives of the main Liberal party at the reception were Mr. Stephen Jones, president of the Laurier Club; Mr. C. R. Bishop, secretary of the Central Executive of the Liberal Association; Mr. Charles Spratt, president of the Liberal Association; and Mr. William Ivel, past president. Mrs. Ivel, past president of the Forum, was also present.

A silent tribute to the memory of the late Premier Oliver was given during the afternoon.

NEW PREMIER GIVEN WELCOME

Hon. J. D. MacLean and Mrs. MacLean Are Guests of Liberal Women's Forum at Reception

One of the most enjoyable and largely attended social affairs ever organized by the Liberal Women's Forum was the reception yesterday afternoon Premier J. D. MacLean and Mrs. MacLean. The stairs and hallways had been transformed by flowers, masses of dahlias and autumn foliage being effectively used about the platform, tea table and stairway. The hall was crowded with ladies when Premier and Mrs. MacLean arrived about four o'clock. They were greeted by Mrs. Stuart Henderson, president of the Forum, and Mesdames Ivel, R. R. Taylor, J. H. Young, Pilgrim, Bradshaw, Galbraith and Healey who formed the reception committee. Immediately following the formal welcome, in connection with which a very pretty incident was the presentation by little Dorothy Sherrett to Mrs. MacLean of a beautiful basket of roses and anemone Japonica, the Premier gave a short address, in which he expressed his pleasure and appreciation of the reception accorded to him and his wife. After the address tea was served, Mrs. Stephen Jones and Mrs. Charles Spratt presiding at the table. A delightful programme of music added to the pleasure of the occasion. Those taking part being Miss Evelyn Harper and Miss Luella Harper, piano duet; Miss Dorothy Haynes, violinist; Mr. Chris Miller, violin, and Miss Marian Hargreaves, piano, who gave an instrumental trio, and Miss Mabel Humphries, who sang two solos.

Premier Speaks

"I have always appreciated the work and sterling quality of the women's work in this organization," said Premier MacLean in beginning his address. "What the women lacked in numbers they made up in enthusiasm. The backbone of a political party, the backbone of a society, should be character and good ideas."

The Premier pictured the Liberal party as "a group of organized men and women directing our energies for the good of the country and humanity generally."

Gala Day Will Be Held at Exhibition When Formal Opening Takes Place by Minister of Agriculture

DUNCAN, Sept. 16.—The annual Fall Fair of the Cowichan Agricultural Society opened its doors to the public today, and the fair will be formally opened tomorrow by Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture.

The fair this year quite comes up to the high standard attained in previous exhibitions, and in some classes exceeds previous achievements. One of the outstanding features will be the sheep exhibit, together with the auction sale in this division.

Between three and four hundred sheep will be on parade. This section embraces a unique feature. It is sponsored by the B.C. Sheep Promoters Committee. Acting with the name named there is the Vancouver Island Flock Masters' Association, and the Cowichan Agricultural Society.

Mr. George Hay, of Vancouver, and Mr. Herbert Smith, of Courtenay, will be the judges in this division, while Mr. C. Basset will act as auctioneer for the sale which will take place at 11 a.m. on Saturday.

There are classes for five outstanding breeds, Shropshires, Hampshires, Oxford, Suffolks and Southdowns, and in addition there are classes for grades as well as prizes for wool.

There were only two entries for the district exhibit, Glenora and Sahtlam, with Glenora taking first place and Sahtlam second. The following shows the marks scored:

The loggers' competitions held during the afternoon promise to be a most exciting and interesting feature again this year, prizes being given for log chopping and sawing, cable splicing, sawing, and other features.

CAPITOL
The Capitol Theatre today, Menjou is once more in the Paris which serves as so perfect a background for his portrayals, but his heroine is an American girl, who, meeting him outside the hotel where he is employed, considers his dress the mark of a gentleman of her own class. He does not dissuade her and the succeeding complications supply Menjou with a high-speed light comedy plot that gives him an opportunity for one of the best characterizations which have made him so popular in the film world. There will be three deluxe stage presentations today at the Capitol Theatre, commencing at 4, 7 and 9:05 p.m. The acts include Mary Louis Treen and "Skeeter" Hartwell, lady bugs from Fanchon and Marco's beautiful presentation "The Bug's Innovation," which played to a tremendously successful engagement last week at the Strand Theatre in Vancouver. The Lady Harpists Trio Supreme, who have been held over this week, are offering another entirely new and entrancing programme of melodies, both popular and classical.

COLUMBIA
Richard Dix, the THEATRE young man whose histrionic ability and promise and his cinema circles is holding forth today at the Columbia Theatre where "Quicksands," in which he is starred, is showing. "Quicksands" is a melodrama of the frontier, with Dix playing the part of the young army officer, who finds himself embroiled in all sorts of difficulty when he attempts to track down a gang of smugglers, who have been making the vicinity of the army post where he is stationed a very unpleasant place in which to live. To complicate matters, the girl he loves appears to be working hand in glove with the smugglers. He conducts a raid on their headquarters, a saloon belonging to one Portuguese Joe, and discovers that she is a frequenter of the place. On his return to the post after the raid, he learns that her father is a federal agent and has been captured by the smugglers.

PLAYHOUSE
While filming his latest production, "All Aboard," for First National, Johnny Hines flirted fearfully with the yellow peril when he came to choosing members of the film's "Who's Who" he turned right around and signed Sojin, the Chinese character actor, who was so busy in "The Thief of Baghdad" with Doug Fairbanks. Edna Murphy plays the leading feminine role in "All Aboard," which is at the Playhouse Theatre today, and others figuring prominently in the hilarious action are Frank Hagney, James Leonard, Bull Montana, George Reed, Fred Kelsey, Buster Brodie, Eddie Dennis, Dot Farley and Babe London.

DOMINION
Clara Bow, the bounciest, dashing "madcap of the screen," has gone and done it again! Not so long ago the little Paramount star stormed the country with Elmer Olyn's "It." This was followed by "Rough House Rosie." Now she's back with one that's even better, "Hula," showing at the Dominion Theatre for the last times today. The story itself is perfect for the lovable red-head, so much so that one can believe Armine Von Tempel had Clara in mind when she wrote the popular novel. The direction is close to perfection, this not being difficult to believe when it is remembered that Victor Fleming, the man responsible, also turned out great jobs like "Mantrap," "The Rough Riders" and "The Way of All Flesh." The production has everything in the way of color, romance and laughs. When Clara Bow starts, the audience also starts; furthermore, there are absolutely no stops.

"The Red Widow"
Musical Comedy at Royal, September 29
When the curtain goes up at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Thursday evening, September 29, local theatre-goers will get their first peek at the show that set the East raving. Across the bright footlights will be staged the musical comedy, "The Red Widow." It will run for three nights, winding up on Saturday, October 1. "The Red Widow" is being produced by the Gyro Club under the direction of C. H. Lewis and is a sister-play of "The Beauty Shop," which was staged by the Gyro two years ago, being a product of the pen of Channing Pollock. The cast for the show has been assembled and includes the leading amateurs in Victoria, and rehearsals have been in progress for some days. The show is made up of three acts, the first being in the foyer of a London theatre and the other two in St. Petersburg. Many of the characters are Russian, although Col. Cicero Hamblin, Butts, of the leading male character.

CAPITOL
The Capitol Theatre today, Menjou is once more in the Paris which serves as so perfect a background for his portrayals, but his heroine is an American girl, who, meeting him outside the hotel where he is employed, considers his dress the mark of a gentleman of her own class. He does not dissuade her and the succeeding complications supply Menjou with a high-speed light comedy plot that gives him an opportunity for one of the best characterizations which have made him so popular in the film world. There will be three deluxe stage presentations today at the Capitol Theatre, commencing at 4, 7 and 9:05 p.m. The acts include Mary Louis Treen and "Skeeter" Hartwell, lady bugs from Fanchon and Marco's beautiful presentation "The Bug's Innovation," which played to a tremendously successful engagement last week at the Strand Theatre in Vancouver. The Lady Harpists Trio Supreme, who have been held over this week, are offering another entirely new and entrancing programme of melodies, both popular and classical.

COLUMBIA
Richard Dix, the THEATRE young man whose histrionic ability and promise and his cinema circles is holding forth today at the Columbia Theatre where "Quicksands," in which he is starred, is showing. "Quicksands" is a melodrama of the frontier, with Dix playing the part of the young army officer, who finds himself embroiled in all sorts of difficulty when he attempts to track down a gang of smugglers, who have been making the vicinity of the army post where he is stationed a very unpleasant place in which to live. To complicate matters, the girl he loves appears to be working hand in glove with the smugglers. He conducts a raid on their headquarters, a saloon belonging to one Portuguese Joe, and discovers that she is a frequenter of the place. On his return to the post after the raid, he learns that her father is a federal agent and has been captured by the smugglers.

PLAYHOUSE
While filming his latest production, "All Aboard," for First National, Johnny Hines flirted fearfully with the yellow peril when he came to choosing members of the film's "Who's Who" he turned right around and signed Sojin, the Chinese character actor, who was so busy in "The Thief of Baghdad" with Doug Fairbanks. Edna Murphy plays the leading feminine role in "All Aboard," which is at the Playhouse Theatre today, and others figuring prominently in the hilarious action are Frank Hagney, James Leonard, Bull Montana, George Reed, Fred Kelsey, Buster Brodie, Eddie Dennis, Dot Farley and Babe London.

CHAPTER LIII

Edith had moved in an illumined mist of gentle, shining happiness since the night when Jim kissed her—until, standing by his side in a room full of people, she had seen the look on his face when he caught sight of Shirley, and knew that for him there were no crowds, but only one face. In that moment there was no more shining mist, but bleak, uncompromising daylight. She pleaded a headache as an excuse for leaving early, and Jim was in no mood to protest the decision. He kissed her at the doorway of her apartment—one of his gentle, tender kisses—and she clung to him a moment despairingly. It was the last! It was in truth an absent-minded kiss, but Edith was spared at least that final bitterness of knowledge.

She turned out the light and lay on the bed, her hands clenched straight at her sides. She heard Shirley come in a few minutes later, heard the clink of the living room light, heard Shirley pause a moment at her bedroom door, ready to say good-night, but she should still be awake, but she made no sound. Silence fell upon the little apartment—silence, but not peace.

"I didn't try to keep them apart, I didn't," Edith protested into the dark. And something in her answered: "But you always invited Jim on the nights when you knew Shirley would be away. You told him just enough to make him believe that she was busy and happy and didn't care."

Her mind was divided into two parts, questioning, arguing, answering each other. The clamorous voice of her desire put forth its claims persuasively, insistently. "Shirley would be away," she said. She said she was, and Shirley never lies. I kept out of the way until she herself told me that she had parted, for good. She shut her ears against that other voice, the unending and inexorable voice of reality. But it would not be silenced.

"Yes, she told you that," it said. "But he never looked at you as he looked at Shirley tonight—and you knew it all along. Shirley never lies; but you lied to yourself, because you didn't want to know the truth."

"I didn't!" Edith moaned. "He kissed me, he asked me. I had a right to believe him. It isn't fair to say that I mustn't believe him just because I want to so much. And I have a right to try to make him happy. I will try—and I'll do it. If it isn't what he gave Shirley, that's my loss. I've a right to be contented with what he can give me if I want to. It isn't my fault. And I can't give him up now—I can't!"

The conflict raged endlessly on in the darkness. Shirley had other things in her life. She had given her heart to him, and yet she could still be enthusiastic about this Spring advertising campaign. She could put love out of her life, and turn to something else.

"But for women like me, love is everything—everything! We're throwbacks, maybe. But for centuries and centuries we were taught that that's what being a woman means. We weren't blamed for it then. We weren't asked to be different. Love justifies everything. We'd fight for food—and we've just as good a right, a better right, because it means even more, to fight for the deeper need, for love. I could still make his home, couldn't I? I'd make a lively home. And I could—bear his children. That's what I'm for! I wouldn't care if the whole advertising business went up in smoke tomorrow. And he does need me; he said I was a haven after storm. 'All's fair in love and war.' Well, love is the war of women. That's older than all this modernity. I'm not mooning. Why should I be expected to abide by these new rules? I never made them. I never asked for them."

When the dawn was beginning to cast grey shadows across the blackness of the room she rose wearily and undressed. She hung her crumpled evening dress far back in the closet, out of sight. She was too tired to think any more. When she woke, Sunday morning was far advanced; and Shirley, in a smock that had been "retired" from the office to the kitchen was calling "Breakfast!" in the open doorway.

"I got ahead of you this time on the housewifery stunt," Shirley looked with dull eyes at the fluted sunshine of the daffodils. "You do something well that you've a mind to Shirley. This coffee's excellent." "Praise from you, on cookery, is praise indeed. I wanted to do something a little special. Jim told me last night about your engagement."

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH COMMITTEE MEETS

COLWOOD, Sept. 16.—The meeting of the committee of St. John's Church took place at the Vicarage on Wednesday evening, September 14. Rev. H. B. Allen occupied the chair. Arrangements were made for the harvest festival services to be held in October, the date of which will be announced later.

The need of repairs to the lane leading to the church was discussed and a "working bee" will be held by the men on Tuesday evening, September 20.

He was a reformer, one of the fire and brimstone type, and he was giving the audience a few home truths.

"Yes, my friends," he said, "although you are all above sin, each one of you must beware of the demon. The demon is chained to the wall, waiting to jump out and catch you. If you give him the slightest chance he'll stretch out his hand in front and grab you! Or he'll stretch out to the right and grab you! Or he'll stretch out to the left and grab you! And he'll even stretch out behind and grab you."

This was a little too much for a man seated in the middle row of seats, and rising to his feet he shouted:

"Well, the blessed thing might as well be loose."

BOARD HEARS OF CHINESE LIFE

Mrs. A. J. Williams Speaks to Columbia W.A. Diocesan Board Meeting on Problems in Honan

TWO CHANCES IN PERSONNEL

Mrs. A. J. Williams, for many years a missionary in the Canadian diocese of Honan, China, and wife of the well-known missionary, Rev. A. J. Williams, was given a cordial welcome at the Columbia W.A. Diocesan Board meeting held at St. Columba, Strawberry Vale, yesterday. Mrs. Williams' interesting address was listened to with deep interest.

Other visitors welcomed to the meeting by the president, Mrs. James Dickson, were Deaconess Simcox, who was congratulated upon her return to health, and Mrs. Percy Davies, a W.A. worker in Chicago, who was visiting in the city.

Rev. A. L. Nixon gave the noon-hour address, the short service being removed to Vancouver, her place has been taken by Mrs. Williams, who was welcomed by the ladies, and a social half-hour was held on the subject.

The chief speaker of the evening was Mr. J. R. Terry of the Department of Agriculture, who chose for his subject, "The World Poultry Congress," describing many points of interest on the subject. He was accorded a hearty vote of thanks.

It was announced that the speaker at the next meeting, on October 20, would choose "Boils" for his subject. Following the adjournment of the meeting refreshments were served by members of the South Saanich Women's Institute, and a social hour was enjoyed.

SAANICH FAIR PLANS PROGRESS

Arrangements Are Well in Hand for Exhibition Next Week—Hon. E. D. Barrow to Officiate

SAANICH, Sept. 16.—Wednesday, September 21, will be visitors' day at the fifty-fifth annual Fair of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society.

The entries for all various sections are coming in steadily, and the directors are confident that this year's Fair will surpass those previously held by the society.

Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, will formally open the Fair, and assisting in the opening ceremony will be Mr. J. D. McIlroy, one of the pioneers of Saanich. Mr. McIlroy was secretary of the society as far back as the seventies, and has been one of the staunch supporters of the Fair ever since.

The Highland piping and dancing competitions will be one of the outstanding features, and are attracting a large number of contestants. A number of silver and gold medals are to be awarded to the successful competitors. They are to be seen in the windows of Little & Taylor, jewelers.

The society's annual ball will be held in the Agricultural Hall on Friday evening, September 23. A five-piece orchestra has been engaged for the occasion, dancing being from 9 until 2 a.m.

Panama is to have a new railroad to be devoted exclusively to hauling bananas.

FOR DOMINION BOARD

Mrs. Patt was nominated as the accredited delegate from Columbia Diocese, by the unanimous vote of the meeting, to the triennial meeting of the Dominion Board, which is to be held in Toronto next month. The president, Mrs. Dickson, expressed the sincere appreciation of the board of the excellent way in which Mrs. Norrish carried out the arrangements of the Diocesan Summer School, held in July, seeing to the comfort of the boarders and also carrying out the details of the "at home" given by the Columbia Diocesan Board on one afternoon.

Mrs. Niven asked that contributions to the Dominion Board offering be sent to her early in December.

The Columbia Coast Mission secretary, Mrs. Boyd, will be glad of magazines or other suitable literature, which can be left at Messrs. Dean & Hiccocks, or called for if required, and also asks for strong sacks in which the literature may be packed.

The W.A. branch at Courtenay is endeavoring to form a W.A. library and would be grateful for suitable books, which can be left at the Memorial Hall before September 26, in the care of Mrs. E. Bird. The invitation of St. Matthias' branch for the board to be their guests at the Christ Church Cathedral Memorial Hall on Friday, October 21, was accepted with thanks.

Cable Rate to India

MONTREAL, Sept. 16.—Inquiries here at the offices of the Anglo-American Cable Company, elicited information that the reductions in cable rates by the Western Union Company in New York yesterday, for cablegrams to India, Ceylon and Burma applied also to Canada. The reductions range from twenty-four cents on cable letters to six cents on other traffic.

Funeral of Mr. Bate

NANAIMO, Sept. 16.—The remains of the late ex-Mayor Mark Bate, who passed away while on a visit to relatives in Birmingham, England, on August 27, arrived here last night, and pending funeral arrangements repose at the D. J. Jenkins, Ltd., chapel.

Car on Fire

NANAIMO, Sept. 16.—A Chevrolet car owned by Mr. Phil Fort, caught fire last evening at the intersection of Pine and Fitzwilliam Streets. The Fire Department soon extinguished the blaze after some forty dollars damage had been done.

GRAIN CROP OF DISTRICT JUDGED

South Saanich Farmers' Institute Awards Announced—Potato Judging Later

KEATING, Sept. 16.—The South Saanich Farmers' Institute held its monthly session in Temperance Hall on Thursday evening, with Mr. W. D. Mitchell presiding. The prizes were presented to the winners in the wheat crop competition. These were silver spoons, and were won by Mr. W. D. Mitchell, first, and Mr. George Stewart, second. The potato crop competition will be judged during the coming week. The results will be announced at the meeting.

The chief speaker of the evening was Mr. J. R. Terry of the Department of Agriculture, who chose for his subject, "The World Poultry Congress," describing many points of interest on the subject. He was accorded a hearty vote of thanks.

It was announced that the speaker at the next meeting, on October 20, would choose "Boils" for his subject. Following the adjournment of the meeting refreshments were served by members of the South Saanich Women's Institute, and a social hour was enjoyed.

ANSWERS TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

SIDNEY BOARD HEARS OF FAIR

Mr. Alex McDonald Goes Back Nearly Three Score Years in Story of Saanich Exhibition

OTHER MEETINGS HELD IN SIDNEY

SIDNEY, Sept. 16.—The monthly meeting of the Sidney Board of Trade was held on Tuesday evening in Wesley Hall. A talk by Mr. Alex McDonald was given on the present site of "Ardenmore," and that they had been held continuously since that time, it being the oldest exhibition in the province. And older than the Canadian National Fair at Toronto.

The weekly meeting of the Sidney Social Club was held in the clubrooms, Berquist Hall, on last Wednesday evening. There was a fair attendance of members and their friends, who spent a most enjoyable time at military five hundred, which was played at four tables. The prizes were presented to Mrs. Hambley and Mr. E. Kirkness. D. Breathwaite and J. Jackson. At the conclusion of the same refreshments were served by the ladies, and a social half-hour was enjoyed.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the United Church was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. Orlichey, Third Street. There was a good attendance of members. The president, Mrs. Simister, occupied the chair and opened the meeting. The treasurer's report was presented and found satisfactory. It was announced that it would not be possible to have the Rtd. dog stall at the coming Saanich Fair, and it was necessary to suggest some other feasible plan for raising money. Many suggestions were made, to be held over to the next meeting. Sincere sympathy was extended to Mrs. Cliff, a former resident of Sidney, in the loss of her husband, Mr. Cliff, and the secretary was instructed to write to her on behalf of the members. At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses.

SALE OF WORK IS DUE IN NOVEMBER

Alert Bay Branch of Woman's Auxiliary Commences Season's Activities

ALERT BAY, Sept. 16.—The Alert Bay Branch of the Women's Auxiliary held its first business meeting of the Fall season. A large number of ladies were in attendance. The president, Miss Ferryman, was in the chair. The Rev. F. Comley, opened the meeting with a hymn and prayer and gave a short address.

The business under discussion was the sale of work to be held in the Parish Hall on Saturday, November 5. The senior branch, as well as the Indian members and the juniors and girls, are to assist. The stalls are to represent the days of the week, and besides these, there is to be a fish pond for the children.

In the evening there will be a concert, convened by the men. Last year the sale of work netted about $225. The monthly devotional meetings in the Hospital Chapel are to be resumed.

Panama is to have a new railroad to be devoted exclusively to hauling bananas.

CHALKS UP THIRD WIN

Cleo's Rochester chalked up his third win in as many starts when he came home as the sixth race with a second advantage over the victor. The winner, ridden by Valente, hugged the rail for the distance and held off the challenges of the fast-moving place mount. Chevalier went wide on the last turn but did not find the place, which he held to the wire. Galeta brought a good day's laid back first and were all out in two-eighths of a mile. The horses doing real damage taking most of the wickets. It looked like an easy victory for Courtenay, but after their last man was out the total was just sixteen runs more than the home side.

State Attacks Dog Racing in Colorado

DENVER, Sept. 16.—An information charging the Denver Greyhound Racing Association, its directors and officials, with gambling, was filed in District Court at Golden today by District Attorney Joel E. Stone. The dog races have been operated on the outskirts of Denver more than a week.

It was announced that the filing of the information will not stop the races, which are expected to run until October 1. The action is expected to precipitate a controversy as to what is gambling that probably will be carried to the State Supreme Court. The board racing enthusiasts contend that Supreme Courts of Oklahoma, Missouri and other states have given the form of betting used at the race track a clean bill.

Gene Has Melted More Than Jack Training for Bout

Tunney Has "Thinned Down" Perhaps Too Rapidly, Says De Forest, Who Blames Heat More Than Work—Both Men in Good Shape—Champion Is Speedy, Accurate

By JIMMY DE FOREST
Famous conditioner of boxers and former trainer of Jack Dempsey.

(Copyright, 1927, by all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Turning into the home stretch, Gene Tunney, the champion, and Jack Dempsey, the challenger, appear in pretty fine physical condition—as fit as they could be by the methods they have followed in training.

Tunney has "melted" away more than Dempsey. The heat here affected the champion more than the challenger. Tunney's work has thinned him down rapidly, perhaps just a trifle too rapidly, for he has not done enough hard work to taper him down so quickly. He has sweated off several pounds.

But he seems in good form. He says that he feels fresh, and is in the pink of condition.

Tunney is fast. He is accurate. He boxes well. I am sure that when he is put to it in the big fight, he will show even better than the best he has exhibited in his training bouts. But he has had one bad habit in his boxing, which, if he carries it into the ring, will surely get him into trouble.

A WARNING FOR GENE
Now, he can get away with a thing like that when he is playing with a sparring partner, but when it comes to the real thing in the championship fight, it will behoove Tunney to keep that left hand up where it will be of some use to him, not drop it at his side, thus making himself an easy target for a right hook or one of the straight rights Dempsey can murder a man with.

I like the way Gene goes at the big bag. The champion doesn't try any fancy stuff here, but just tears in and fights the bag. Tunney may be only a boxer, but I have a suspicion that if he has to, Gene can fight and mix it with the best of them.

Tunney has more "barrel" than Dempsey. By that, I mean that he doesn't taper in at the waist as much as the challenger. He looks as if he could take a wallop about the body, and there is no doubt by this time in anybody's mind where Dempsey is going to centre his attack.

SPEED AND ACCURACY

In his recent workouts, since he suffered the cut eye and had the consequent layoff, Tunney has been practicing for speed and accuracy in hitting. He also is doing quite a bit of footwork, and herein lies his big asset. Gene will need plenty of footwork against Dempsey. He has to move around. Tunney does not move back and forth in straight lines. Anybody who does this is doomed to sample some terrific wallops in the ring with Dempsey. But Tunney circles about, and in this way prevents a straight rushing attack from being very effective against him.

It's a case first of catching him, and then trying to measure him. Or of catching him and then steady-line yourself. Where a man simply keeps backing up without circling, all you have to do is to catch up with him and let your punches go. They're bound to land on him somewhere. But a circling target is one you have to "tag," not merely catch.

EYE MAY TROUBLE TUNNEY
I gave that injured eye of Tunney's the once-over, and while it is healing as well as could be expected under the stress of boxing, I am not so sure it won't give him trouble when he faces Dempsey, especially if Dempsey gets any kind of a smack at it in the early rounds.

It will not do Gene any good in any case, for I think that when he gets into the ring he will be anxious to protect the eye against being reopened, and so will be too much on the defensive.

In a way, this will be a good thing. Tunney, for I think his road to victory lies in a defensive battle at the start and through several of the early rounds, just as he fought in Philadelphia. I suspect, however, that he will find a much more formidable adversary in front of him this time.

SURELY CONFIDENT

However, Gene is supremely confident that he will win. He has had a little the better of it over Dempsey when it comes to sparring partners, although both the champion and the challenger could be a whole lot better off in this respect.

I said some time ago that I didn't think Tunney's left jab was as good today as it was when he fought Tom Gibbons. I have not seen anything since then to make me change my opinion.

TODAY'S GAMES
Incogs vs. Cowichan, at Cowichan.
Victoria vs. Albions, at University.
Garrison vs. Five C's, at Beacon Hill.

With the championship of the Victoria and District Cricket League within their grasp, the University Incogs will meet Cowichan today on the latter's home ground in the last scheduled game of the season. The leaders have a two-point advantage over the Albions and victory today will give them the coveted honors.

The Albions, their nearest rivals, will oppose Victoria at the University grounds, and an interesting game is anticipated. The third game of the day will be the Garrison meeting the Five C's at Beacon Hill.

Victory today for the Albions and defeat for the Incogs will create a tie for the championship and necessitate an extra game being played for the title.

The Garrison have defaulted three points to the Incogs and three to the Albions. These clubs should have met the Tommies in postponed games, but owing to the lateness of the season the Garrison have shown real sportsmanship by agreeing to forfeit the points.

The following players will represent Victoria today: Grant, Meredith, Barber-Starkey, Verrill, N. Wilkinson, W. Wilkinson, A. Booth, J. Wallace, G. Baker, Archibold and L. Wallace.

Players are asked to be on the ground at 2 p.m.

Capablanca's Chess Title Threatened in Game With Russian

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 16.—The first game in the world championship chess match between the titleholder, Jose R. Capablanca, of Cuba, and the Russian challenger, Alexander Alekhine, was adjourned to night after forty-two moves, with Alekhine in the favorable position. Some experts consider Capablanca's position so critical that he may be forced to resign soon after resumption of play tomorrow.

JASPER PARK FINALS TODAY

STANLEY THOMPSON MEETS
R. P. BAKER FOR TOTEM
POLE GOLF TROPHY

Surprise of Tourney Is Defeat of
Harry A. Jones, Vancouver,
Present Holder of Title

JASPER NATIONAL PARK, Alta., Sept. 16.—Stanley Thompson, of Toronto, and R. P. Baker, of Vancouver, will meet tomorrow in the finals of the Jasper Park Lodge tourney for the Totem Pole trophy, emblematic of the championship.

Playing today in the semi-finals, Thompson eliminated J. Leslie Bell, of Calgary, by the impressive margin of 5 up 3 to play, while Baker won over Harry A. Jones, his fellow Shaughnessy Heights club-mate, and last year a holder of the trophy, 2 up. Good golf was played in both semi-finals, golf that was more interesting than the scores would appear to indicate.

Stan Thompson, who incidentally was the builder of the famous Jasper course for the Totem Pole trophy, has been a golfer to reckon with in any tournament he enters, was in sparkling form today and his opponent, R. P. Baker, had his hands full keeping up with him. Bell was three down at the turn, going out in a medal score of 40 to Thompson's score of 37, and the match was over at the third hole.

ORDINARY AT START
There was nothing out of the ordinary in the start of the match, the opening hole being halved in fives. Bell negotiating a stytle for his own break. The second was also a half in five, but at the third Thompson edged out in front when Bell ran into trouble by finding a trap to the right on his second shot, and took a five to his opponent's four. At the short fourth, Bell was down in a compact looking three, but Thompson, after having a very close shave, came to rest some five feet from the cup, was down in a single putt for a birdie two and took the hole to become two up.

Fifth and sixth were halved in fives and fours respectively, but at the seventh Thompson won and increased his advantage to three up. Three putts played havoc with Bell's chances of halving this hole. At the eighth Bell got a rough lie after his second shot that cost him a stroke, and he went further behind.

At the ninth, he rallied and declared himself in the running again when he played a remarkable shot with his putter to negotiate a dead stytle and dropped in the cup for a lovely three.

Thompson was out in 37 while Bell took 42 and was three down. Bell got into trouble at the tenth and lost the hole, which was more or less loosely played, but he rallied sufficiently to win the eleventh with a four. Thompson got something of a bad break when his second shot in a match of seven holes on the fairway and stopped up short.

AT "BAD BABY HOLE"
Three putts by Bell cost him the twelfth, and after getting an even break at the thirteenth and fourteenth, he found himself in a hole at the match was over, five up and three to go. At the fifteenth, the celebrated "Bad Baby Hole," Thompson was down in a hole in five and sank a long putt for a birdie two.

The players played out the game and the medal scores were:
Thompson, out: 5, 5, 4, 2, 5, 4, 3, 5, 4, total 37. In: 4, 3, 5, 5, 2, 3, 5, 5, 5, 4, total 38.
Bell, out: 5, 5, 5, 3, 5, 4, 6, 3, total 40. In: 7, 4, 4, 5, 5, 3, 4, 4, total 42.

Harry Jones, of Vancouver, holder of the trophy last year and looked upon as the favorite to repeat when the tourney opened, started off against R. P. Baker, also of Vancouver, as if he was going to reach the final bracket and put up a battle to retain the silverware.

Jones took the first hole with a beautiful birdie three, got a half in fives at the second, and then won the third with a six to his opponent's seven. Baker then proceeded to settle to his best stride, however, and after halving the fourth with a good four, took the fifth with a five and the sixth with another four to square the match. Two halves followed at the seventh, but the comparatively short ninth again saw Jones slip into the lead when he was down a well played three to his opponent's four, and thus was one up at the turn.

EVENED AT THE TENTH
Going out, Jones had a medal score of 42, while Baker's was 45. The match was evened at the tenth, which Baker won with a five, and from that point on until the fifteenth there was nothing to choose between the players. At the fifteenth a very usual par put Baker into the lead, but halves at the sixteenth and seventeenth kept Jones very much in the running, and it was not until the eighteenth, which Baker won with a four, was played out that the decision was definitely reached.

The cards follow:
Jones, out: 3, 5, 6, 4, 6, 5, 4, 6, 3, total 42. In: 6, 5, 4, 5, 4, 4, 5, 6, 4, total 45.
Baker, out: 5, 5, 7, 4, 5, 4, 6, 5, 3, total 43. In: 5, 5, 4, 5, 4, 3, 4, 5, 4, total 44.

The finalists in the second flight will be Tommy Chard, of Edmonton, and Melbourne, of Jasper, both winning at the nineteenth green and Melbourne defeating J. M. Little, of Toronto, in the semi-finals. A. J. Toole, of Calgary, and Leo Dufort, of Edmonton, are scheduled to meet in the third flight final, while Bill Mayne, of Jasper, and Dr. E. D. Gillies, of Vancouver, will battle it out for first prize in the fourth flight.

RIDERS RULED OFF FOR ATTEMPTS TO FIX HORSE RACES

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 16.—The second big turf scandal in three years came to light here when it was learned that officials of the Dade Park Jockey Club had ruled Jockeys J. Ryan and J. Merimee off the American turf for life for attempting to bribe fellow riders to "pull" their mounts.

J. J. Grady of Lexington, one of the stewards, stated that the guilt of the accused jockeys was established beyond question.

English Swimmer Fails in Attempt To Swim Channel

BOULOGNE, France, Sept. 17.—Miss Millie Hudson Young, English swimmer, who started on a Channel attempt from Cape Griz Nez at 11:06 o'clock yesterday morning, abandoned the swim after being in the water about thirteen hours. She was forced to quit shortly after midnight, when a strong current carried her off her course.

BOWLING WILL START TODAY

CYRIL BAKER, LEADING TEN-

Rapidly to Popularity

Cyril Baker, well-known local athlete, and holder of the highest break and highest average medals respectively in the City Bowling League, will roll the first ball down the Arcade Alleys, Pemberton Building, today at 12 noon for the official opening of the 1927-28 season.

The alleys are all dressed up in their new clothing for the affair, and today they stand out among the very near future, it was learned here today.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 16.—If plans materialize whereby all stock of the Cleveland American League Baseball Club can be taken over, a syndicate of Cleveland men, headed by Charles L. and Alva Bradley, will become owners of the Indians within the very near future, it was learned here today.

Mrs. James C. Dunn, majority stockholder in the club, has agreed with the syndicate on a price for her holdings, it was said, and negotiations are now under way to have certain minority stockholders sign for the proposed sale.

If the sale goes through, the syndicate plans to build a modern plant here, with a seating capacity of 75,000.

Reports were again circulated that Billy Evans, former American League umpire, would be named president of the club and Tris Speaker appointed manager.

SOCCER SEASON TO OPEN NEXT WEEK

Clubs Will Be Practising Today for Initial Fixture—Juniors, Ju-niles and Seniors to Be Out

With the opening of the local soccer season set for a week from today, managers of the various clubs are losing no time in getting their players in condition for the opening tilt. Soccer fields throughout the city will present a busy aspect today, not with league matches, but with clubs practicing, and getting some ideas as to their strength for the season's opening.

At Central Park, Saanich Rovers, juniors, will oppose Burnside Tillamooks, in a practice match on the field, while on the other Saanich Thistles, of the senior loop, will hold a workout. At Victoria West Park, Esquimalt juniors and the Green-shirts will indulge in a practice match.

Poul Bay juveniles and Esquimalt Rangers will have a friendly match at Poul Bay. At Beacon Hill the Five C's, who will make their debut in senior company this season, will go through a workout.

With the exception of the Saanich Thistles, all practices will commence at 2:30. The former club will start activities at 3 o'clock.

Taste is a matter of tobacco quality

WE state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield are of finer quality (and hence of better taste) than in any other cigarette at the price.

Cleveland Group Negotiating for Club Ownership

CLEVELAND, Sept. 16.—If plans materialize whereby all stock of the Cleveland American League Baseball Club can be taken over, a syndicate of Cleveland men, headed by Charles L. and Alva Bradley, will become owners of the Indians within the very near future, it was learned here today.

Mrs. James C. Dunn, majority stockholder in the club, has agreed with the syndicate on a price for her holdings, it was said, and negotiations are now under way to have certain minority stockholders sign for the proposed sale.

If the sale goes through, the syndicate plans to build a modern plant here, with a seating capacity of 75,000.

Reports were again circulated that Billy Evans, former American League umpire, would be named president of the club and Tris Speaker appointed manager.
